Rabbi Stephen Lewis Fuchs

With thanks!

I guess, “You can go home again!”

When I arrived 52 years ago to begin to serve — as I did for 13 years — Temple Isaiah in Columbia, MD, people called me, “The Boy Rabbi.” Nobody calls me that anymore.

Nevertheless, the reception and the turnout when I spoke there May 9 and 10 were overwhelming. Vickie and I remain deeply moved by how many there today remembered us so fondly. “We grew up there,” Vickie noted, “and we look back on our years there with all the nostalgia that comes to mind when people recall their first true love.”

Fast forward to today, as I write my final column as your rabbi, I find myself wondering how the years flew by so quickly. And happily, true love is what Vickie and I have found here at Temple Beth Shalom in Vero Beach.

I applied for your interim position because I hoped and thought I could help the congregation appropriately mourn the departure of your beloved Rabbi, Michael Birnholz, and prepare the congregation to welcome its next settled Spiritual Leader. I believe we have accomplished that task together.

I knew that if I were to succeed, I could NOT try to do everything the way Rabbi Birnholz did. I had to be me and to bring to you my authentic self. In a similar way, it is just as vital that your new Rabbi, Rose Durbin, not try to replicate my style or anyone else’s except her own.

She is bright, creative, tech savvy, and with three young children in tow, she will be a powerful magnet to attract the young families to TBS that will be the foundation of our congregation’s future.

And so...

With overwhelming gratitude for the way you have received Vickie and me, I trust you will embrace “Rabbi Rose” (as she likes to be called) in the same way you have embraced me. If you do, I am confident that at this time next year she will feel the same love and gratitude that Vickie and I feel today.

You will receive the Scroll on June 1st which is also Shavuot. We will have already celebrated on the Friday before, with a very special Shabbat when we celebrated receiving the Torah by chanting the Ten Commandments, and welcoming Rebecca Jaffe into the Jewish people officially! Celebrating this day with the Jaffe/Oswald family made me think about a very special time in my life.

It was Shavuot on May 18, 2002, the day I became Bat Torah, Daughter of Torah. I had converted 13 years prior and felt it was fitting that I should be called to the Torah at this time. However, what was special was that my mother-in-law who was born and raised orthodox and never had a Bat Mitzvah was also becoming Bat Torah with me. My mother-in-law and I studied for a year together preparing for this day. We would meet in the Rabbi's office once a week to study Hebrew, Torah, Haftarah, and the service. We each brought our own perspectives to study, and I learned so much about my mother-in-law, as she did me, and we grew very close during that time.

When the day finally came, we were both very excited and nervous. We would be leading most of the service, which we both knew very well because we attended service just about every week. We would be chanting Torah, the Ten Commandments, and for our Haftarah we would be reading from the book of Ruth, the section where Naomi sends her daughters-in-law back to their families after her sons have died. After some protestation, her daughter-in-law Orpa returned to her family, but Ruth refuses and says:

"Ask me not to leave you, or to return from following after you; for wherever you go, I will go; and wherever you live, I will live: your people shall be my people, your G-d my G-d: where you die, I will die, and there will I be buried: the Lord do so to me, and more also, if aught but death part you and me."

As special as chanting the Ten Commandments was, reading Ruth as a convert standing next to my Jewish born mother-in-law reading the story of the first recorded convert was beyond meaningful for me.

Ruth makes a choice, not just to follow her mother-in-law's ways but G-d's. At Mt. Sinai when Moses brings the Torah to the people, they, we, must make a choice and just like Ruth, we choose as a people, a nation, to take up the covenant that Abraham took up with G-d many years before. Although Shavuot, is the festival of weeks and the time when we celebrate Torah it is also the time in which we choose once again to keep that covenant with G-d.

Seeing Rebecca make the choice to also take on the covenant with G-d and the love and support of her mother-in-law Sandy, and the whole family as Rebecca officially chose Judaism, was amazing to witness and be a part of, and is now one of my favorite memories!

President's Message

Dear Friends,

Summer is upon us, but there is no rest for the weary! The Rabbi, Cantor, Mindy, Trudie, and the Board of Trustees are hard at work planning next year's activities and programs.

I encourage you to attend our Annual Congregational Meeting on June 8th at 4:30 PM. This is a key opportunity to learn about the Temple's future plans—religious, spiritual, and social—and to share your voice. Your presence is important not only to stay informed, but also to ask questions and VOLUNTEER for areas that interest you. Supporting the Temple goes beyond dues and donations—your time and involvement are just as valuable.

As you may know, Rabbi Rose Durbin will officially begin her tenure at Temple Beth Shalom on July 1, 2025, and we are thrilled to welcome her. She will be attending the Annual Meeting and will have some time to introduce herself and speak with you. To help everyone get to know Rabbi Rose more personally, we will also be hosting small gatherings at members' homes and at the Temple. Please watch the Scroll and Temple Tidings for details on dates and locations.

Remember, the Temple cannot grow without your participation—and without welcoming new members. Please consider inviting friends or acquaintances who are not currently affiliated with a synagogue to join you at services or events. Many are hesitant due to financial concerns. We want to reassure everyone that we work with families confidentially to ensure membership is accessible and affordable.

Warm regards,
Steven Berlin

Sisterhood

As I step down from my role on the board after 8 incredible years, my heart is filled with gratitude, love, and deep appreciation for each of you.

Serving as President and Vice President has enriched my life.

Through challenges and triumphs, laughter and tears, we have built something truly special - much more than just an organization. I'd say, family bound by shared purpose and unwavering support. I am grateful for all of the wonderful friendships, the lessons learned, and the countless moments that have shaped me as a leader and as a woman.

Although I am stepping back, my commitment to our sisterhood will never waver. I cherish the connections we have made and will continue to support and uplift our new leadership.

To my fellow board members - Thank you for your dedication, wisdom, and encouragement. Leading alongside you has been an honor beyond words.

To my sisters - Never underestimate the power of your voice, your ideas, your presence and abilities to make a difference. We are strong because of you.

As I begin the next chapter, I leave with a full heart and confidence that our Sisterhood will continue to thrive and flourish. I am forever grateful.

With Love, Sandy
